

If you are a grad student...

- preparing to take your religion ‘comps,’
- want to gain a better understanding of the secularization / desecularization debate, and/or
- are looking for an introductory text into the critical theory of religion

you need to buy this book!

This primer — which contains the most salient citations — makes available a substantial amount of practical information about the modern non-theological study of religion. In a brief amount of time, you will easily gain a broad, but thorough, overview of the sociology of religion.

Author: Under the mentorship of Prof. Rudolf J. Siebert (b. 1927), Dr. Jensen earned his Masters in Comparative Religion and, in 2015, his doctorate in Sociology from Western Michigan University. His masters degree gave him a working knowledge of Christianity, Buddhism, and Islam. His doctorate allowed him to specialize in sociological theory, the sociology of religion, the critical theory of the Frankfurt School, and, in particular, the works of Erich Fromm (1900-1980).
